Rabbi Levi Deitsch gave his Classification Talk. He has four children (two boys and two girls).

Coming from a family with 11 siblings, he may be going for more. The Rabbi grew up in Brooklyn and met his wife out in LA via a set up from one of his sisters. In no small endeavor they had their wedding in Australia where his wife is originally from. His parents and grandparents and all the brothers and sisters went to Australia for the wedding.

Rabbi became interested in Rotary after meeting John Brunow at Bike@Vienna where he rented a bike.

He was curious why the bike store was closed on Wednesday and learned it was Rotary Day. He needed to know more. He has lived in the Vienna area for about six years and he leads the congregation Chabad Jewish Center at Tysons. They have focused on the large number of Jews in Vienna and Fairfax County who are not affiliated with a traditional congregation. They have experienced large growth with the Sunday School growing from eight children four years ago to 50 this year.

Rabbi says his hobby is studying and he participates in a weekly conference call with others studying different subjects. His talk was very enjoyable and included several very funny jokes. The next several weeks are equivalent to "tax time" for a CPA as he is very busy with the Jewish High Holidays. Thank you Rabbi Levi and welcome to Rotary. Reported this week by Jorge Diaz.

"...when I go to sleep at night, I know that wherever there is a Rotary flag, I have made a difference. I know also that my task is not ended but merely begun, for there will always be humans in need, children hungry, and nations at war.

Life Insurance

Mary was discussing the various aspects and possible outcome of the insurance policy with the clerk at the Insurance Agency. During the discussion, she asked. "Suppose I take the life insurance for my husband today for a million dollars, and tomorrow he dies? What will I get?" The clerk eyed her suspiciously and replied, "Probably a life sentence."

I'm Worried

Two kids are talking to each other. One says, "I'm really worried. My dad works twelve hours a day to give me a nice home and good food. My mom spends the whole day cleaning and cooking for me. I'm worried sick!" The other kid says, "What have you got to worry about? Sounds to me like you've got it made!" The first kid says, "What if they try to escape?"

Trivia

Salt is the only rock humans can eat. Only 5 percent of salt produced ends up on the dinner table. The rest is used for packing meat, building roads, feeding livestock, tanning leather, and manufacturing glass, soap, ash, and washing compounds. Also, it is one of the few spices that is all taste and no smell.

Puns

If a certain wind instrument were declared off-limits, would it be a forbidden flute?

German Farmer

A German farmer with relatives in the US promised them some fresh pork sausages made by hand from his very own stock of pigs. But as the weeks went by, they gave him a call to complain that the package had not yet arrived. He told them, "Don't worry. The wurst is yet to come."
